Endoscopic fenestration of intraventricular cerebrospinal fluid cysts: the contralateral approach

TO THE EDITOR: An error occurred during author revisions of our article, “Endoscopic fenestration of intraventricular cerebrospinal fluid cysts: the contralateral approach” (J Neurosurg [epub ahead of print October 2, 2015; DOI: 10.3171/2015.4.JNS142157]). An author’s name—that of Ralf A. Kockro, MD—was inadvertently omitted from the manuscript.

To correct this error, the list of authors and affiliations has been revised to read:

Michael Hugelshofer, MD,^{1,2} Nicolas Olmo Koechlin, MD,¹ Hani J. Marcus, MRCS,^{1,3} Ralf A. Kockro, MD,¹ and Robert Reisch, MD¹

¹Centre for Endoscopic and Minimally Invasive Neurosurgery, Clinic Hirslanden, Zurich;

²Department of Neurosurgery, University Hospital of Zurich, Switzerland; and ³Imperial College Healthcare NHS Trust, London, United Kingdom

This change affects the list of author contributions, which has been revised to state:

Conception and design: Hugelshofer, Reisch.
Acquisition of data: Hugelshofer. Analysis and interpretation of data: Hugelshofer, Marcus.
Drafting the article: Hugelshofer, Marcus, Kockro. Critically revising the article: all authors.
Reviewed submitted version of manuscript: all authors. Approved the final version of the manuscript on behalf of all authors: Koechlin.
Statistical analysis: Hugelshofer. Administrative/technical/material support: Reisch. Study supervision: Reisch.

We apologize to Dr. Kockro and the readers for the omission and appreciate the opportunity to set the record straight by publishing this erratum. The paper has been corrected online as of November 13, 2015, as well as in this issue.

Nicolas Olmo Koechlin, MD
